EXPLANATIONS:

The following three inventories represent the complete collection of superseded topographic quadrangles for the six states bordering Illinois held by the Illinois State Library as of May 1, 1992. The first inventory consists of six lists of the superseded 1:24,000 scale quads for each of the six states: Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan, Missouri and Wisconsin. The current quads are not listed.

The lists are generally alphabetical by the name of the quad as printed. The name was taken exactly from the printed quad, which means some quads have "Mount" abbreviated and some do not, quads which have two states listed sometimes changed the order of the two states between editions, one word names have become two or vice versa, etc. The state name has been omitted when it is a single state only but given when it is two or more.

The various editions of a quad are listed in chronological order with the latest first usually, except when practices, such as those mentioned above, have affected the computer filing, so search the lists with these factors in mind.

Also, be aware that any quad showing Illinois territory is listed on the Illinois inventory, which is published in the May 1992 issue of Illinois Libraries. Those quads with "IL" in the name on these lists show no Illinois territory. Quads showing territory in two states of the six are listed in the inventory of the state named first on each quad.

The column headings are fairly self-explanatory with perhaps two exceptions. The "QUADNO", when the column is filled, is the USGS code for that quadrangle, based on 1-degree blocks of latitude and longitude, plus an alphanumeric for each 7 1/2 minute quad. The "SORTDATE" should be ignored by user. It is only a mechanism to get the computer to file as close to "latest first" as possible, since it could not pick the latest date for every quad out of any possible column.

Abbreviations used:

P = provisional edition
(PR) = photorevised edition

The second and third inventories are lists of the 1:62,500 and the 1:125,000 scale quads respectively, for the same six states. Each of the two lists is organized alphabetically first by state and secondly by quad name, but all in one list.

These lists differ from the 7 1/2 inventory in a couple ways. The several columns of dates have been reduced to one. The chronological order, when two or three editions of a quad exist, was still supposed to be latest first. The computer cooperated about half the time on that principle, without a sortdate prompt. The index column merely indicates whether or not the quad has been marked off on the oldest index map the State Library owns for that state. These quads do not show on the current topo indexes, nor was the whole state in each case necessarily mapped on the 1:62,500 scale, as Illinois was, so marking the available graphic index helped estimate the percentage of the potential collection that the State Library holds and will help users locate the needed quad as well.
